

The twentieth of February, Monday.

[ɪ:]

[e]

[a:]

meet pleasure can't

plant clever seed

Jen the Hen	are	lazy.
Jen's children	is not	clever.
Tug the Dog	are not	happy.
Chuck the Duck	is	lovely.
Jen's friends
Pam the Cat

Jen the Hen's friends don't like to work.

Children help her mother to plant seeds.

Jen the Hen and her children are in the street.

She goes to meet friends.

Jen the Hen wants to plant seeds.

to make bread - печь
хлеб

What a pity! – какая
жалость!

What's the matter
with...? – что случилось с...?

A vibrant, watercolor-style illustration of a spring garden. In the top left, a red lantern hangs from a vine. Two children, a boy and a girl, are in the center, both wearing large flower crowns (one green, one yellow) and holding small white flowers. The garden is filled with various flowers, including yellow daisies, orange tulips, and red pansies. The background is a soft, light green wash with scattered green dots.

21.02.2017

1) St. B. ex. 5 p. 33-34 r/t

записать

незнакомые слова в
словарь

2) Words and expressions learn orally