Matt's story

 Close your book and listen to Matt's story.
What was in Matt's sleeping bag?

We usually go to France in the summer. We stay at a campsite. We take our caravan and we get the ferry from Plymouth to Roscoff. Then we drive to the south.

Last summer my cousin Jack came with us, so we took a tent for me and Jack. We got the ferry as usual and went to a campsite near the sea.

One morning my mum came into our tent with a drink and, suddenly, she said 'Matt! Don't move!' There was a scorpion in my sleeping bag.

I was quite scared, but Jack pushed the scorpion into his shoe with a magazine. Then he took it outside. He ran across the road and put it under the trees. My parents said 'You're a hero, Jack!'

We had a great holiday but, after that, everyone looked in their sleeping bags before they went to sleep.
