Fans of different styles of music have their own subcultures.

What does this mean?

This means that people listening to different styles of music, have different preferences in clothes, colors, accessories and even they have different manners

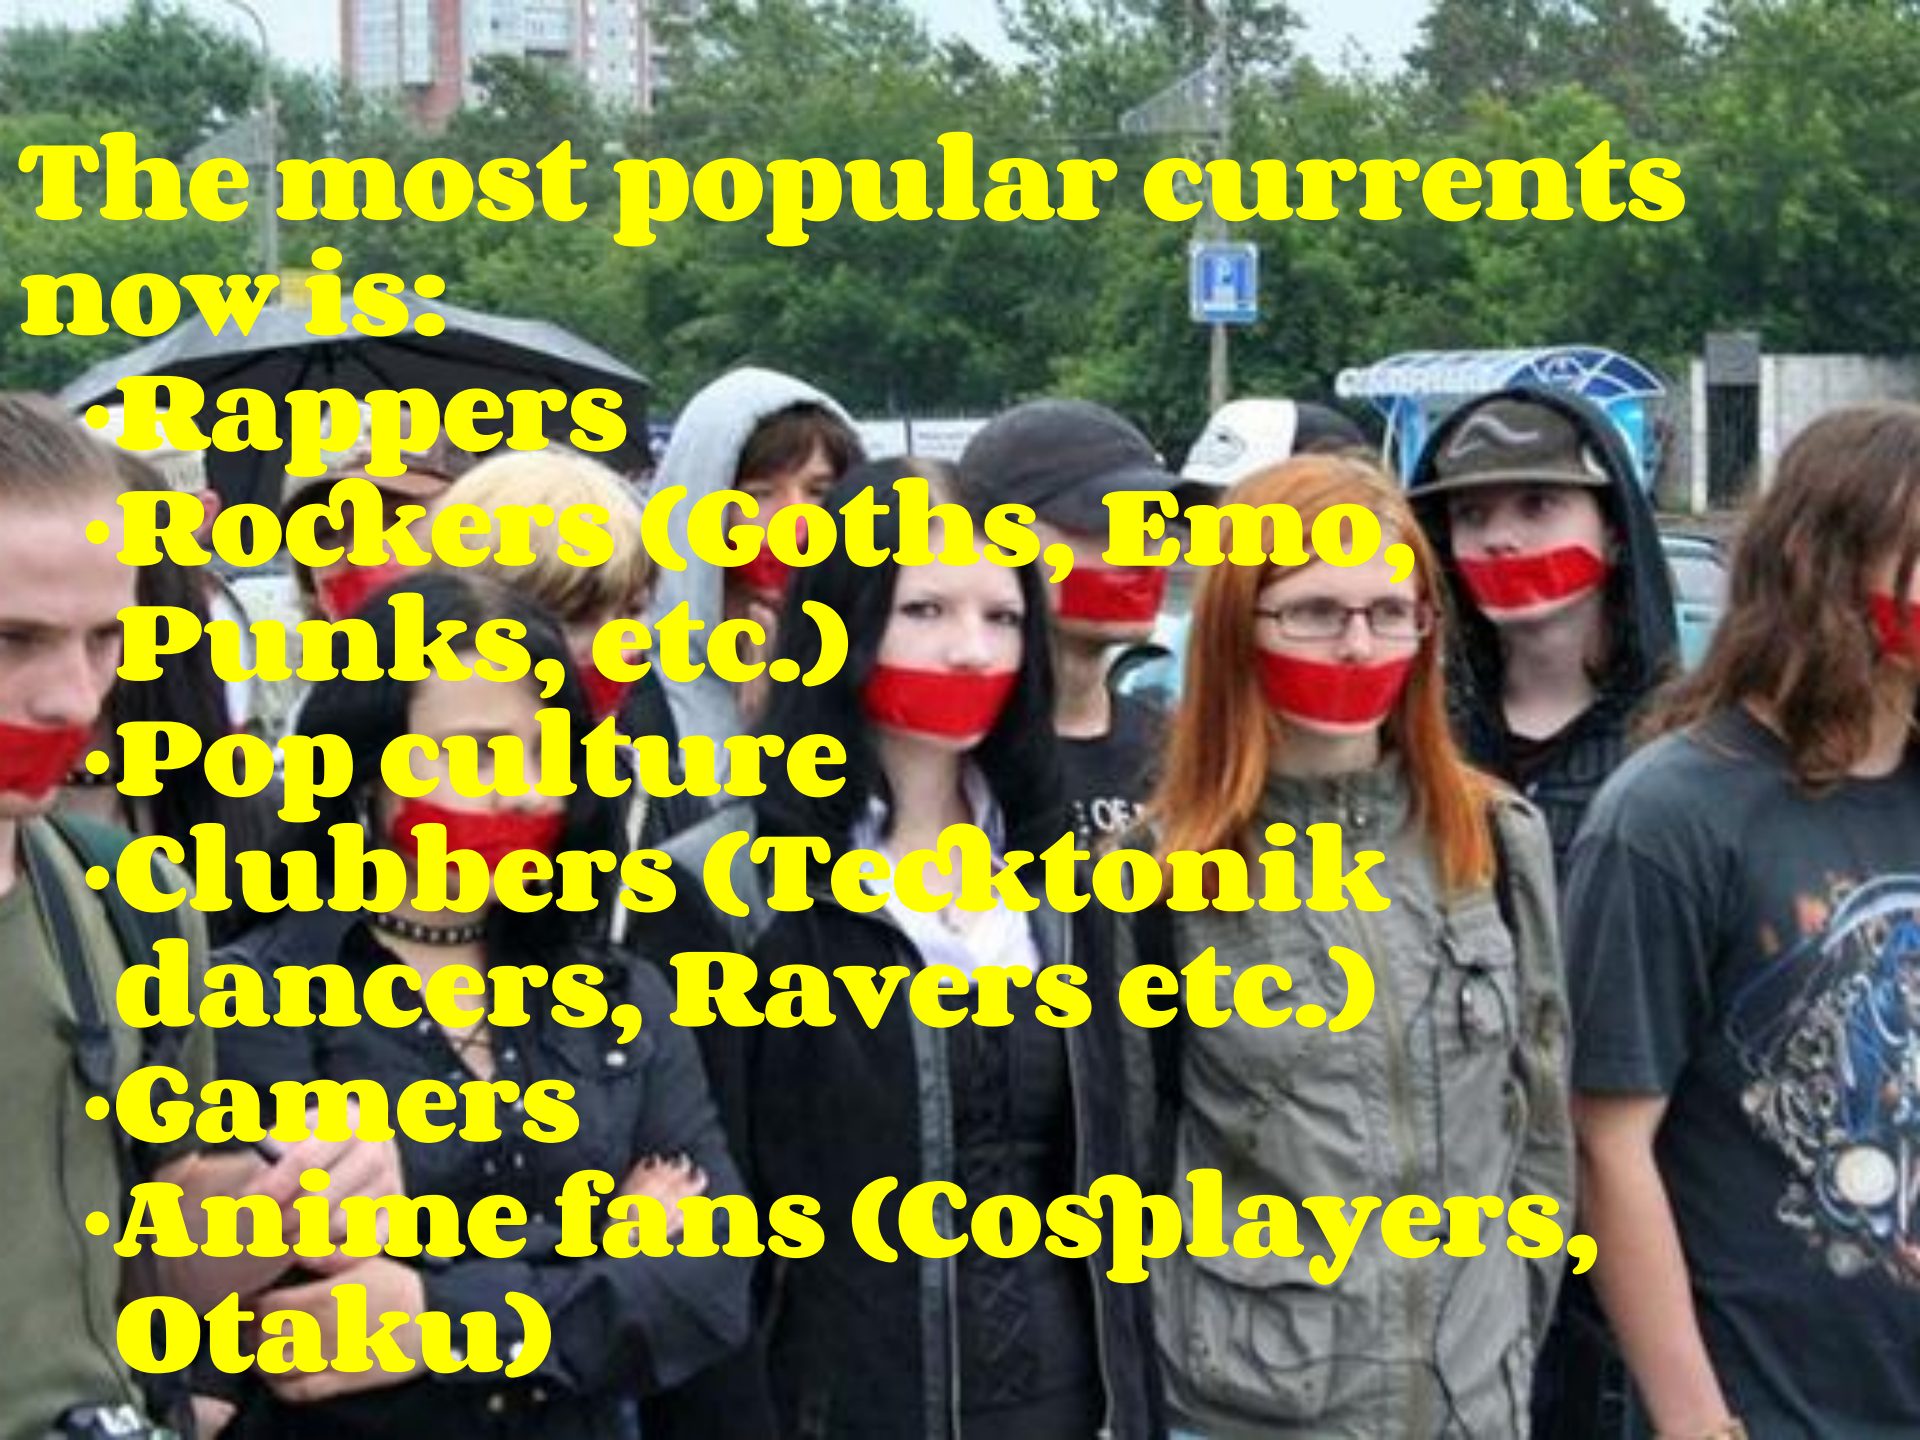

There are many groupings (subcultures) that have interests different from those of the mainstream culture.

A particular cultural grouping is a way for young people to express their individuality.

The most popular currents now is:

- Rappers
- Rockers (Goths, Emo, Punks, etc.)
- Pop culture
- Clubbers (Tecktonik dancers, Ravers etc.)
- Gamers
- Anime fans (Cosplayers, Otaku)

RAPPERS

The stereotypical rapper are someone who: wears particular clothing,
such as sportswear,
white trainers and
baseball caps,

fake gold jewellery – in particular big earrings for women, and gold sovereign rings and large gold (or fake gold) chains for men.

Rapping can be delivered over a beat or without accompaniment.

Stylistically, rap occupies a gray area among speech, prose, poetry, and song.

GANSTA

RAP

Rapping is the rhythmic spoken delivery of rhymes, wordplay, and poetry.

Rapping is a primary ingredient in hip hop music.

are common accessories in emo fashion.

Black converse sneakers and skate shoes are popularly worn among them.

The emo fashion is also recognized for its hairstyles. Popular looks include long side-swept bangs,

Also popular is hair that is straightened and dyed black or bright color such as blue, pink, red or bleached blond.

People hate emo, because they view them as suicidal, cry babies or just weird. That's not what emo is.

Emo kids are usually shy, quiet and very sensitive.

They are not all suicidal and they do not slit their wrist!

Punk

Punks seek to outrage others with the highly theatrical use of clothing, hairstyles, cosmetics, tattoos, jewelry and body modification.

Punks can come from any and all walks of life and economic classes. The subculture is predominantly men, with the exception of the riot girl movement.

Notable trends in punk politics include nihilism, anarchism, socialism, anti-militarism, anti-capitalism, anti-racism, anti-nationalism, anti-homophobia, environmentalism, vegetarianism, and animal rights.

Ravers

Raver is a word that has been used since the 1960s to describe people who are enthusiastic

A raver does not necessarily have an outwardly defining appearance.

However, a Raver who is not associated with any of the sub-types can.
