31th of October

It is also known as All Saints' Eve. On this holiday people decorate their houses with scary creatures, carve pumpkins and attend costume parties wearing scary outfits.

In addition to begging for sweets and wearing a variety of costumes, Halloween celebration is also associated with some specific games and divination.

November 11th is Veteran's Day in the USA. This holiday is dedicated to people who fell courageously in the World Wars.

The holiday is usually celebrated with parades and meetings of veterans.

The first November weekend

The days of the giant omelette

Everyone who came to the festival has a chance to get a piece of this fantastic invention of cooking. But even those who do not get a crumb, will not leave upset. First, they will be able to visit any cafe or restaurant, which on this day include a few dozen types of omelets on their menu, arrange promotions with Grand discounts and quizzes and competitions, the winners of which receive valuable prizes and the opportunity to free tasting any of the favorite omelets.

On the third Saturday of October Sweets day

On this day, it is customary to give chocolate or roses, as well as all that is the personification of delicious — because it is assumed that love should be sweet, like milk chocolate!

September 1 Knowledge Day

Traditionally, solemn rulers, class hours, lessons of knowledge, peace, security, courage and so on are held in schools on this day.

On October 1 International Day of Older Persons

Various festivals organized by associations for the rights of older people, conferences and congresses on their rights and their role in society are held. Public organizations and funds arrange various charity events on this day.

4 November

National unity day celebration

In many cities of Russia on this day are held festive concerts, performances, charity events, sporting events, processions and rallies organized by various political parties and social movements.

We`ve learned a lot about several autumn holidays in the United States, then compared them with Russian holidays and noticed that many of them are not like Russian holidays, and they are not similar in that they are held not like ours and in general they have traditions that differ from ours.
