The background of the image is a solid teal color. Overlaid on this background is a black silhouette of a castle or fortress. The silhouette features several tall, pointed towers and spires, with a central, larger structure that appears to be a main keep or tower. The overall shape of the silhouette is irregular, with various smaller turrets and battlements. The text is centered over the middle of the image, in a white, bold, sans-serif font.

And what about you?
What do you look like?
