William Shakespeare was born in Stratford on April 23, 1564.

His father, John, was a dealer in corn, meat, wool and leather.

William was educated at a free Grammar School.

Shakespeare left this school when he was 13 and never went to study again.

When Shakespeare was 18, he married the daughter of a farmer.

Soon his three children were born and he left for London.

Here he became an actor and only in 1593 he began to write for the stage.

He wrote "Romeo and Juliet", "Twelfth Night", "Hamlet" and other great plays, poems and sonnets.

In 1611 he returned to his native town where he soon died.

She was already involved in politics and gave up law when she was elected to the Parliament in 1959.

Joseph Turner, the greatest English romantic landscape painter, was born in Covent Garden, London, on the 23rd of April in 1775.

He was the son of a fashionable barber.

He started drawing and painting as a small boy.

At the age of 14 he entered the Royal Academy School.

His water-colours were exhibited at the Royal Academy from the time he was fifteen.

Turner worked at first in water colours, then in oils.

Between 1802 and 1809 Turner painted a series of sea-pieces, among them "Sun Rising in Mist".

During his life Turner painted hundreds of paintings and thousands of water-colours and drawings.

On his death Turner's own entire collection of paintings and drawings was willed to the nation and they are in the National and the Tate Galleries.
