SEASONS

A soft-focus photograph of a winter scene. In the foreground, there is a snow-covered lawn with some small, dark shrubs. In the middle ground, there are several houses. On the left, a light-colored house with a gabled roof and a small porch. To its right, a darker house with a similar gabled roof. On the far right, a tall, two-story red wooden house with a steep gable and a small dormer. Bare trees with snow-laden branches are scattered throughout the scene. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and wintry.
