Education is an important part of modern life.

Children can start going to kindergarten from the age of two, but this is not a compulsory education. It depends on parents decision and child's wish to attend this institution. However, school is compulsory.

Compulsory education in Russia is presented by three types of schools:

1. Primary
2. Secondary
3. High

Primary school from 6 – 7 years to 11 years.

Every child starts going to schools from the age of seven and till 16. The primary school teaches its pupils elementary skills, such as reading, writing, counting. Many schools also offer foreign languages or some other special disciplines at this age.

Secondary school from 11 years to 15-16 years.

The most important period is the secondary school, which starts from the 4th or 5th grade, depending on school. This is the time when children start leaning Biology, Geography, Chemistry, Physics, Computing and many other new subjects.

High school from 16 years to 18 years.

At the 9th grade children face a very important period in their life. They have to choose whether to continue school education, or to leave for other types of educational institutions, such as college, specialized schools and else.

If the pupil decides to continue studying in high school, which lasts for two years, he can enter the university after school graduation.

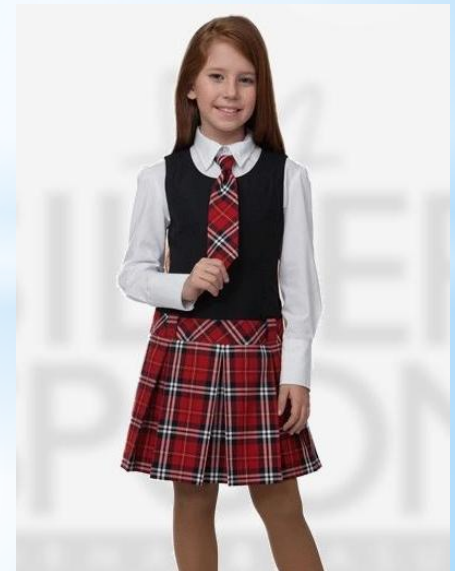

There are lots of special schools, where they pay attention only to particular subjects. Also, apart from state schools, there are a number of private schools, where education is not free of charge.
