

Friendship is thing for two
Three or four, even more
Like a song that's made to sing
Friendship is a thing.
(By Edith Segal)

«Дружба – дело для двоих, для троих,
Для четверых и для сотен тоже
В ней участвовать любой
Словно в песне, может!»

«Дружба служит для двоих,
Иль троих, иль четверых.
Как и песня, чтобы петь.
И не купит дружбу «медь».

- In my opinion, you are right/correct.
- I agree completely (with what you say).
- There's no doubt about it.
- That's my opinion, too.
- I disagree with what you're saying.
- I don't agree with you/think so/see it that way.
- I'm not sure I can agree with what you say about...
- I understand what you're saying but...

1. For Alan family mean a unit of 4 or 6 persons.
2. The phrase “blood is thicker than water” means that family is much more important to Alan than friends.
3. Julia’s friends are much more important for her than her family because they don’t care about her problems.
4. Julia likes to gather with her friends and speak about their future jobs and money.
5. Catherine is proud of her family because they love her and her friends.
6. If her parents don’t like Catherine’s friend they’ll prohibit any relations.

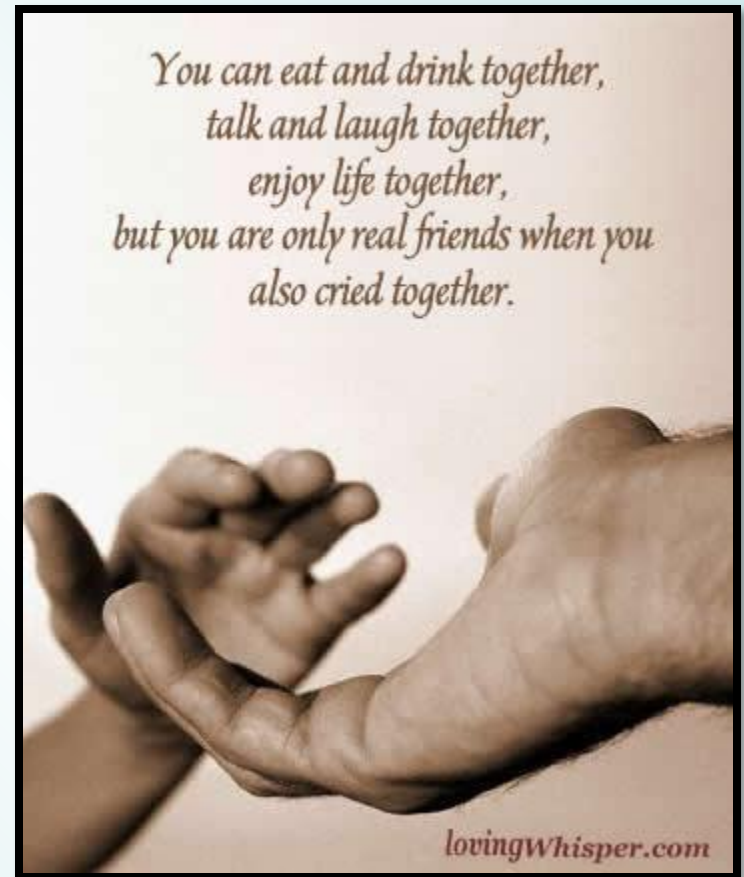

Ex. A good friend is someone who...

- sees life through your eyes.
- keeps his / her promise and keeps your secrets.
