Introduction.

The aim of our project is to tell you about one of my favourite writers. His life is very bright and interesting. Remarque is so talented, and he wrote lots of works filled with emotions and serious feelings

Erich Maria Remarque.

Erich Paul Remark was born on June 22, 1898 in a working-class family in the German city of Osnabrück. He later took the middle name Maria in honor of his mother of his mother. At the age of sixteen or seventeen he also made his first attempts at writing: essays, poems, and the beginnings of a novel that was finished later and published in 1920 as The Dream Room (Die Traumbude).

Army. War.

He was conscripted into the army at the age of eighteen. On 12 June, 1917 he was transferred to the Western Front. On 31 July he was wounded by shrapnel in the left leg, right arm and neck, and repatriated to an army hospital in Germany, where he spent the rest of the war. In his last carrier, participation in wars activity, played a grand role. Also he described relationships of people on the war, about friendship, and after wars years, he told about how war leaved her imprint on life of people.

Carrier.

- ▶ His most famous book, All Quiet on the Western Front (Im Westen nichts Neues) was written in a few months in 1927, is often described as the most wide-spread book of the world after the Bible. But Remarque was not immediately able to find a publisher. The novel, published in 1929, described the utter cruelty of the war from the perspective of a young soldier. A number of similar works followed; in simple, emotive language they described wartime and the postwar years. In 1931, after finishing 'The Road Back. In 1933, the Nazis banned and burned Remarque's works. Remarque's next novel, Three Comrades (Drei Kameraden) spans the years from the inflation of 1923 to the end of the decade.

His literary styles can be subdivided into the following notes: strong powers of observation, unvarnished realism, skepticism, pessimism, connected with a subliminal social engagement.

Paulette Goddard.

When he made a journey to America he met some publishers and filmproducers. Especially Joseph Kennedy, then movie theater owner and respected producer, father of the later president of the USA, helped him to gain a foothold.

Two years later he entered USA official and got the nationality in 1947.

He married the Hollywood actress Paulette Goddard in 1958 and they remained married until his death in the hospital at Locarno on 25 September 1970 at the age of 72.

He is interred in the Ronco cemetery in Ronco, Ticino, Switzerland after a Catholic funeral, where Goddard is also interred.

Erich Maria Remarque was always weighed with a little bitterness, despite the great success and all the money he was able to earn.
