

Yesterday All my troubles seemed so far away
Now it looks as though they're here to stay
Oh, I believe In yesterday

Suddenly, I'm not half the man I used to be There's a shadow hanging over me Oh, yesterday came suddenly

Why she had to go I don't know She wouldn't say I said something wrong now I long for yesterday

Now I need a place to hide away
Oh, I believe In yesterday

Why she had to go I don't know She wouldn't say I something wrong now I long for yesterday

Yesterday

Now I need a place to hide away
Oh, I believe In yesterday

(hum to "I believe in yesterday")

- 1. Do they refer to Present events?
- 2. Do they refer to Past events?
- 3. Do they refer to Future events?

The simple past is used to tell events happened in the past.

Events started and finished in the past

Regular Verbs

Regular verbs add -ed to the base form of the verb

Base form	Simple past
Play	played
listen	listened
create	created regular verbs
watch	watched
dress up	dressed up

Spelling variations of regular verbs

You have to observe some spelling rules before adding ED to the base form

•when the verb finishes with the vowel E, you add only D:

live lived

•When the verb is monosillabic and finishes with only a consonant preceded by only a vowel, you double the consonant and add ED

stop stopped

When the verb finishes with Y precedeed by a consonant, you change Y in I, before adding ED:

study studied

•When Y is preceded by a vowel, you add simply ED:

play played

The simple Past of the irregular verbs is often completely different from the base form

To know if a verb is regualar or irregular you have to look up a dictionary or the list of irregular verbs that is often on the last page of your Student's Book.

You'll learn them by heart, but, first of all you have to study them.

On the list and on the dictionary you'll find three forms for each irregular verb:

to go went gone

The first one is the infinitive form

The second one is the Simple Past

The third one is the Past Participle

Watch the conjugation of the verbs

"to play" "to go"
