How tea was drunk in Britain first?

By the time tea was first introduced into this country in 1660, coffee had already been drunk for several years. By 1750 tea had become the most popular beverage for all types and classes of people – even though a pound of tea cost a skilled worker a third of his weekly salary.

Some facts

British people have foggy and rainy weather. Great Britain is situated on islands, also it is washed by seas from all sides. Because of this reasons, British people are great tea-drinkers.

Tea-drinking

Nowadays, tea drinking is no longer a proper, formal, «social» occasion. The English do not dress up to «go out to tea» anymore. But one tea ceremony is still very important in Britain- the Tea Break! Millions of people in Factories and offices look forward to their tea breaks in the morning and afternoon.

✓ The English always drink tea out of cups or mugs, never out of glasses.

English breakfast

- ✓ Due to the fact that England is a cold country , English people usually eat meat at breakfast time.

Making a Perfect cup of tea.

- ✓ There is a golden rule to make cup of tea:
Based on tea brewed with freshly boiled water for 3-5 minutes.
- ✓ If you want to make perfect tea, you should add Black tea(93%), flavoring(2%), strawberry pieces(1.6%), blackcurrant leaves(1.5%), raspberry pieces (0.4%),redcurrant pieces(0.4%)
- ✓ If you want you can add milk or sugar, as you like.

English humor about tea

- ✓ Tea can be brewed up only seven times, on the eighth time the tealeaf float to look at this greedy man.
