

Kazimir Malevich

23.02.1879-15.05.1935

FAMILY AND CHILDHOOD

Kazimir Malevich was born near Kiev, Ukraine.

His parents, Seweryn and Ludwika Malewicz, were ethnic Poles.

Kazimir was the first of 14 children, only nine of whom survived into adulthood.

His family moved often and he spent most of his childhood in the villages.

ART IN HIS LIFE

Until age 12 he knew nothing of professional artists, though art had surrounded him in childhood.

He enjoyed embroidery, and in decorated walls and stoves.

He was able to paint in the style.

He studied drawing in Kiev from 1895 to 1896.

PROFESSION LIFE

In his life, Kazimir Malevich lived in Kursk, in Moscow, where he studied at the School of Painting.

Malevich exhibited his works in Paris, in St. Petersburg, in Moscow.

SUPREMATISM

Malevich is a founder of Suprematism.

Famous examples of his Suprematist works include Black Square and White On White.

He wrote the book The World as Non-Objectivity.

Many of his works were confiscated and he was banned from creating and exhibiting similar art.

ACHIEVEMENTS

A top-down view of a person's hands holding a small, heart-shaped nest made of moss. In the center of the nest is a single white flower with a yellow center. To the right of the flower is a small blue butterfly, and below it is a small yellow and black butterfly. The nest is surrounded by lush green grass and leaves. The background is a dense field of green grass.

Malevich supported love of life and love of nature.

Malevich said that "art does not need us, and it never did".

He was awarded the highest category "1A - a world famous artist" in "United Art Rating".

Winter 1909

Cow and Fiddle

1913

Englishman in Moscow 1914

Black circle
signed 1913, painted 1915

Suprematism

1921-1927

Boy 1928-1932

Portrait of Matiushin 1913

Flower Girl

1903

Thank you for your attention
!!!

