

Tips for Writing a Perfect Valentine's Day Love Letter

ting effective and heart touching Valentine's Day Love Letters is quite an art in itself. To perfect this art one needs a will to express and lots of love for the recipient of the letter. An added touch of imagination and creativity makes the letter a masterpiece. In case you are new in the field here are some tips to help you write a perfect Valentine's Day Love Letter:

Get a beautiful and romantic letter pad with good paper quality.

rite the letter when you are in a good mood.

ear your mind of any distractions and focus on your beloved. You may keep his/her photograph in front of you to set the mood.

y your favorite music if it inspires you.

- rough sheet of paper jot down the unique qualities in your dand your plans for the future with him/her.
- This good to plan the letter in advance and right in rough first.
- Always hand write the letter to give it a more personal touch.

Write with a fountain pen instead of ball pen, as it appears more elegant. Your beloved may preserve this letter for years so make sure it looks as beautiful years after.

- ecial attention to the opening and closing of the letter to leave a r impact.
- nalize the love letter depending on the stage of relationship you present.
- Write from your heart in simple sentences and in an easy to understand language.
- Avoid underlining the words and do not use all caps as it looks like you are yelling.
- In the body of the love letter you may write the special qualities of your beloved. Ideally emotional, physical and spiritual qualities in a person should be highlighted to make the recipient feel loved

- lowing paragraphs you may share your hopes and dreams for the future n your partner.
- ful in your letter and avoid making promises you will not be able to keep a feeling of distrust in your beloved.
- One page is an ideal length for a love letter. You may write more if you are comfortable with your partner but don't make it too long.

Avoid mentioning anyone else in your love letter. Just talk about your beloved and yourself.

- a high-impact closing to your love letter in a way that it sums up feelings in a beautiful way. For instance, "I will love you always," ng you forever," "My heart is yours," are considered to be a ntic closing for a letter.
- Always sign the love letter.
- Go through the letter one or two times to check if you have conveyed your feelings effectively.

- k for spelling and grammatical errors as this kind of errors conveyessness.
- Id more style, you may stick a small photograph of yours to the function the function the function of the love letter. This will make your beloved view the photograph and reflect on you with fondness as he/she admires the content of the letter.
- Spray a fragrant perfume on the letter.

op the letter in the mailbox and wait for the response.

► Thanks for watching and Happy St. Valentine's day!