

My professiogramme

Translator

Who is a translator?

Translation is a specialist
oral and written speech
from one language to another.

Translation Profession recognized as one of the most prestigious and sought after. Translators have their own specialization: someone engaged only translation, working with artistic, scientific,
journalistic, technical texts, articles and documents.

Someone, interpreter translates spoken
language.

Translator's duties includes:

- organizing and conducting tours of the cultural and historical places for foreign citizens support foreign nationals during their visits to the country
- to assist in the placement and residence of foreign nationals
- translations for presentations
- business meetings
- support groups for trips abroad
- translation of technical and fiction
- teaching activities

Where Works Translator:

Translation Bureau - not only the place of work. A professional can choose almost any activity: make English versions of sites, work in the media, gathering information "to order" from foreign sources, accompany politicians and businessmen to travel abroad to serve as tour managers, booking tickets and tours...

Areas of application of professional knowledge:

- travel companies, agencies, bureaus;
- international organizations, companies;
- hotels and restaurants;
- presentations, negotiations, business meetings;
- museums, galleries and exhibitions;
- educational institutions.

Personal qualities:

Translation's work depends on what area of specialist, and depends on the set of his personal qualities.

- Linguistic abilities
- a large amount of long-term memory
- a high level of analytical thinking
- orderly
- attentive
- patient

Translator's abilities:

- communication skills
- verbal ability
- high level of organizational skills
- good memory
- flexibility of thought processes
- ability to make quick decisions in a changing situation
- ability to present the material, taking into account the characteristics of each specific audience
- physical and mental endurance

Education translators usually performed at the philological faculty and involves not only the study of foreign languages, but also the characteristics of culture and history of the countries where they are used, as well as a number of theoretical disciplines related to linguistics.

To succeed in this kind of work required, except good ability to learn languages, high cultural level, impeccable literacy, attentiveness, erudition, and translators for oral text - and even communication skills.

Career growth is associated with where and what to translate...

In general, a good platform for a successful career start - employment in a major international corporation, a leading diversified activities.

The employment

Employment is usually not a problem, the main criterion by which employers choose employees - actual level of foreign language skills, as well as general literacy and erudition. Income level is approximately equal to the average level of wages in the industry.

Often combined with the work of the translator of foreign language teaching.

Related Professions:

- lawyer
- editor
- journalist
- teacher of foreign languages
- tourism manager
- philologist
- philosopher
- publisher
- the seller

My future profession

I like the profession translator, because it has many advantages: for example, the possibility of self-realization in all areas; person holding a foreign language willingly take into journalism, travel agencies, PR-company management, and I love it; have the opportunity to communicate with different people and learn the culture of other countries.

And I have all the powers of this profession, and most importantly, I like it! I love learning languages, especially English! Indeed, in this life you need to do what you likes!

ENGLISH SPOKEN HERE

Thanks for your attention!

Your Katya♥

Boyko