The purpose of research: to define how much effectively state of general welfare

In our opinion Ideal Welfare State must be available for everybody.

If people work they must pay contribution, also must pay the employer and the Government.

benefits are available to the unemployed, the sick, the retired and disabled.

Every child is entitled to a child allowance, besides the income of his parent's may be.

Pensioners must pay a high pension, sick must pay benefits from medicine.

Women must get a pension at the age of 55, and men at 60.

Benefits

People in full-time work whose earnings are below a certain level can claim benefits, too
Women who leave work to have a children have right get maternity allowance from the Government.
Widows can get payments for their husband who died.

Medical Insurance

An emergency case must be quick and available from unemployed and needy.

Medical insurance is organized by the Government and is compulsory.

System of medical care must work well.

Payments to elderly people

The elderly people paid a pension and different benefits.

And every years

Government must be fee travel from pensioners.

Welfare State don't have a poor because everybody to receive or his dole money or his child benefits.

Hypothesis

Welfare State must be effective!

Everybody is to have proper health care and education regardless of their income. The welfare state helps the disabled, people who are unable to work to earn money or their own. Everybody is to have proper health care and education regardless their income

The Conclusion

The welfare state system provides the elderly with an income that allows them to live some degree of dignity
Without financial help, many people would have been reduced to begging
