Тол Бабай vs Santa Claus

Тол Бабай

- Many years ago when there were not people at all, Alangasars lived in Kargurez. When people appeared in the Earth Alangasars hid at the highest point of the Kar mountain, because they were afraid of there sense.

- And only the smallest Alangasar stayed there. Once he met children, they began to play with him. Alangasar decided to give presents to them and kicked with his stick on the ground and the snow melted, flowers appeared. Children were happy and called this Alangasar “Tol Babai” Now Tol Babai lives in Sharkan district

Santa Claus

- About a hundred years ago, a passer-by started spreading the word about Ear Mountain and the existence of its inhabitants. Santa wanted to safeguard the tranquillity of his secret hiding place and came up with a superb idea that also allowed him to meet people who love Christmas and his many friends who come to greet him.

- It was around half a century ago that Santa Claus started to frequently visit the Arctic Circle near Rovaniemi.

- From the turn of the millennium, the Lappish centre for Christmas, the Santa Claus Village on the Arctic Circle became the most spectacular Santa Claus destination in Scandinavia. The popularity of the destination saw the number of visitors double.
