you?

These are the extracts of two letters. Sort them and you will get two stories about ideal and disastrous holidays

Dear Jane

A

I am going to tell you about my last journey. I was ready to travel to Paris when one day I was knocked down by a car and broke my arm. But I decided to go anyway.

My Dad promised to give a ride to the station, which was far from our house.

To make things worse our car began to jerk as we had run out of petrol.

We finally got to the station at three minutes to seven. I kissed my father goodbye and jumped on the train. But as soon as I reach the next station I realized that I had got to the wrong train.

Hope your holidays were better than mine.

Yesterday I decided to have a look round the shops and I bought some souvenirs. Today I've been to a couple of very interesting art galleries.

On my way back to the hotel I discovered a really fascinating market. I'm afraid I've spent too much money.

Tomorrow I am going to see London from London Eye. I was told the view from it is unforgettable.

Finally, I should say that London is fantastic. I've taken a lot of photos. You'll see them when I get back home.

See you later.

We planned to set off very early to catch the 7 a. m. train. In the morning the car couldn't start. When we finally left it was 6.30. My dad is a very slow driver and I asked him to speed up. When we were doing 120 km/h the police stopped us. We had to pay a rather heavy fine.

Dear Nick

F

I've been in London for almost a week now and I'm having a great time. I spend the first few days going sightseeing - Houses of Parliament, the Tower, Buckingham Palace and all the usual attractions.

MOSTLY A's

You don't like holidays that are full of activities. You prefer relaxing in a quiet place. Holidays mean you at last have time to read a good book.

MOSTLY B's

You want an unusual holiday full of fun and friendly people.

MOSTLY C's

You love nature and adventures. The best holiday for you is camping.

Speak about your last journey. Write a letter about it to your friend

We always can raise our spirits singing a song:

THE TRAVEL SONG

Monday in Athens.

Tuesday in Madrid.

Wednesday in Canberra.

Thursday in bed!

Let's fly to Kyiv.

Then to new York.

Let's go to London and rock, rock, rock!

He likes Tokyo.

She likes Rome.

They like Paris.

We all like home.
