A large collection of colorful, handcrafted wooden folk art figurines, including various human figures in traditional costumes, animals, and decorative objects, displayed on a light surface. The figurines are made of wood and painted with vibrant colors like red, blue, yellow, and green. They depict a variety of scenes and characters, such as people in traditional dress, animals like horses and cows, and decorative elements like a large fan and a small tree. The collection is diverse and represents a rich tradition of folk art.
