

Первые киевские князья

Автор: Горячкина И.В.
МОУ СОШ № 77
г.Н.Новгород

Олег 882 - 912

Олег

Распространение власти

Установление торговых связей

Походы на Византийскую империю

Контроль на «пути из варяг в греки»

907 год – поход на Царьград – подписание торгового договора

911 год – подписание второго торгового договора, наиболее выгодного для Руси

Смерть от укуса змеи.

Игорь

912 - 945

Ольга

945 - 957

Урок – точный размер дани

Погост – место сбора
дани

Ольга

Жена Игоря

Месть древлянам за смерть
мужа

Проведение реформы

Установление уроков

Установление погостов

957 – визит в Византию

Принятие христианства

Святослав

957 - 972

Святослав

Сын Игоря

Присоединение вятичей

Поход на Хазарского каганата

Поход против Волжскую Булгарию

Захват Таманского полуострова (образование Тмутараканского княжества).

Захват болгарских поселений, объявление Переяславца новой столицей.

Византия против усиления Русских
земель

Договор с печенегами.

972 г. – смерть Святослава

This map illustrates the Kievan Rus' state and its expansion. The main map shows the territory of the state in the 10th century, outlined in white, with major cities like Kiev, Pereiaslav, and Chernihiv. Arrows indicate the expansion of the state towards the north and west. A legend in the top right corner identifies the arrows by color and direction: green for Oleg, blue for Igor, red for Sviatoslav, and brown for Vladimir. The map also shows the Dnieper River, the Black Sea, and the borders of neighboring states like the Byzantine Empire and Bulgaria. A smaller map in the bottom right corner shows the expansion of the state towards the south and east, with arrows indicating the movement of the state's borders.

This map illustrates the Kievan Rus' state and its expansion. The main map shows the territory of the state in the 10th century, outlined in white, with major cities like Kiev, Pereiaslav, and Chernihiv. Arrows indicate the expansion of the state towards the north and west. A legend in the top right corner identifies the arrows: green for Oleg, red for Igor, brown for Sviatoslav, and dark red for Vladimir. The map also shows the Dnieper River, the Black Sea, and the borders of neighboring states like the Byzantine Empire and Bulgaria. A smaller map in the bottom right corner shows the expansion of the state towards the south and east, with arrows indicating the movement of the state's borders.

This map illustrates the Kievan Rus' state and its expansion. The main map shows the territory of the state in the 10th century, outlined in white, with major cities like Kiev, Pereiaslav, and Chernihiv. Arrows indicate the expansion of the state towards the north and west. A legend in the top right corner identifies the arrows: green for Oleg, red for Igor, brown for Sviatoslav, and dark red for Vladimir. The map also shows the Dnieper River, the Black Sea, and the borders of neighboring states like the Byzantine Empire and Bulgaria. A smaller map in the bottom right corner shows the expansion of the state towards the south and east, with arrows indicating the movement of the state's borders.

This map illustrates the Kievan Rus' state and its expansion. The main map shows the territory of the state in the 10th century, outlined in white, with major cities like Kiev, Pereiaslav, and Chernihiv. Arrows indicate the expansion of the state towards the north and west. A legend in the top right corner identifies the arrows: green for Oleg, red for Igor, brown for Sviatoslav, and dark red for Vladimir. The map also shows the Dnieper River, the Black Sea, and the borders of neighboring states like the Byzantine Empire and Bulgaria. A smaller map in the bottom right corner shows the expansion of the state towards the south and east, with arrows indicating the movement of the state's borders.

Святослав 962 – 972

«Иду на Вы»

Хазарский
каганат Волжская
Булгария
Византия

Олег

882

Киевская
Русь

Установление
влияния на
пути «из варяг
в греки»

Литература

Учебник А.А.Данилов, Л.Г.Косулина

«История России с древнейших времен до конца XVI
в. 6 класс»

М. «Просвещение» - 2006 г.

Анимированные карты с сайта «Сеть творческих учителей»