Ruslan and Ludmila

Prologue

On seashores far a green oak forest,
 And to it with a gold chain bound,
 A learned cat whines away the hours
 By walking slowly round and round,
 To right he walks, and steps a ditty:
 To left he walks, and tells a tale...

What marvels there! A mermaid sitting
 High in a tree, a sprite, a troll
 Whose unknown beauty never seen by
 Man's eyes, a hut on chicken feet,
 Without a door, without a window,
 An evil witch's lone retreat;

The woods and valleys there are teeming
 With strange things... Down brings waves
 That, gleaming,

Over the sandy beaches creep,
 And from the clear and shining water
 Leap thirty goodly knights escorted
 By their old guardian, of the deep
 An ancient dragon... There a dead
 And hated tree is captive to him.

There, as all watch, far cloud bands hooked
 Across the sea and o'er a plain,
 A warlock bears a knight, there, weeping,
 A princess sits locked in a cell,
 And Grey Wolf series has very well
 There, in a mortar, around sweeping
 All of itself, beneath the skies

The wicked Baba-Yaga flies:
 There gives Kachichel and Lada for gold...
 All together of Russ, the Russ of old!
 There once was I, friends, and the cat,
 As near him wealth the oak I sat
 And drank of sweet mead at my leisure,
 Recounted tales to me... With pleasure
 One that I liked do I recall
 And here and now will share with all...
