ONE DAY HE SAW
SOME CANNIBALS
EATING
HUMAN FLESH

THEY HAD ALSO
TWO TIED MEN
WITH THEM

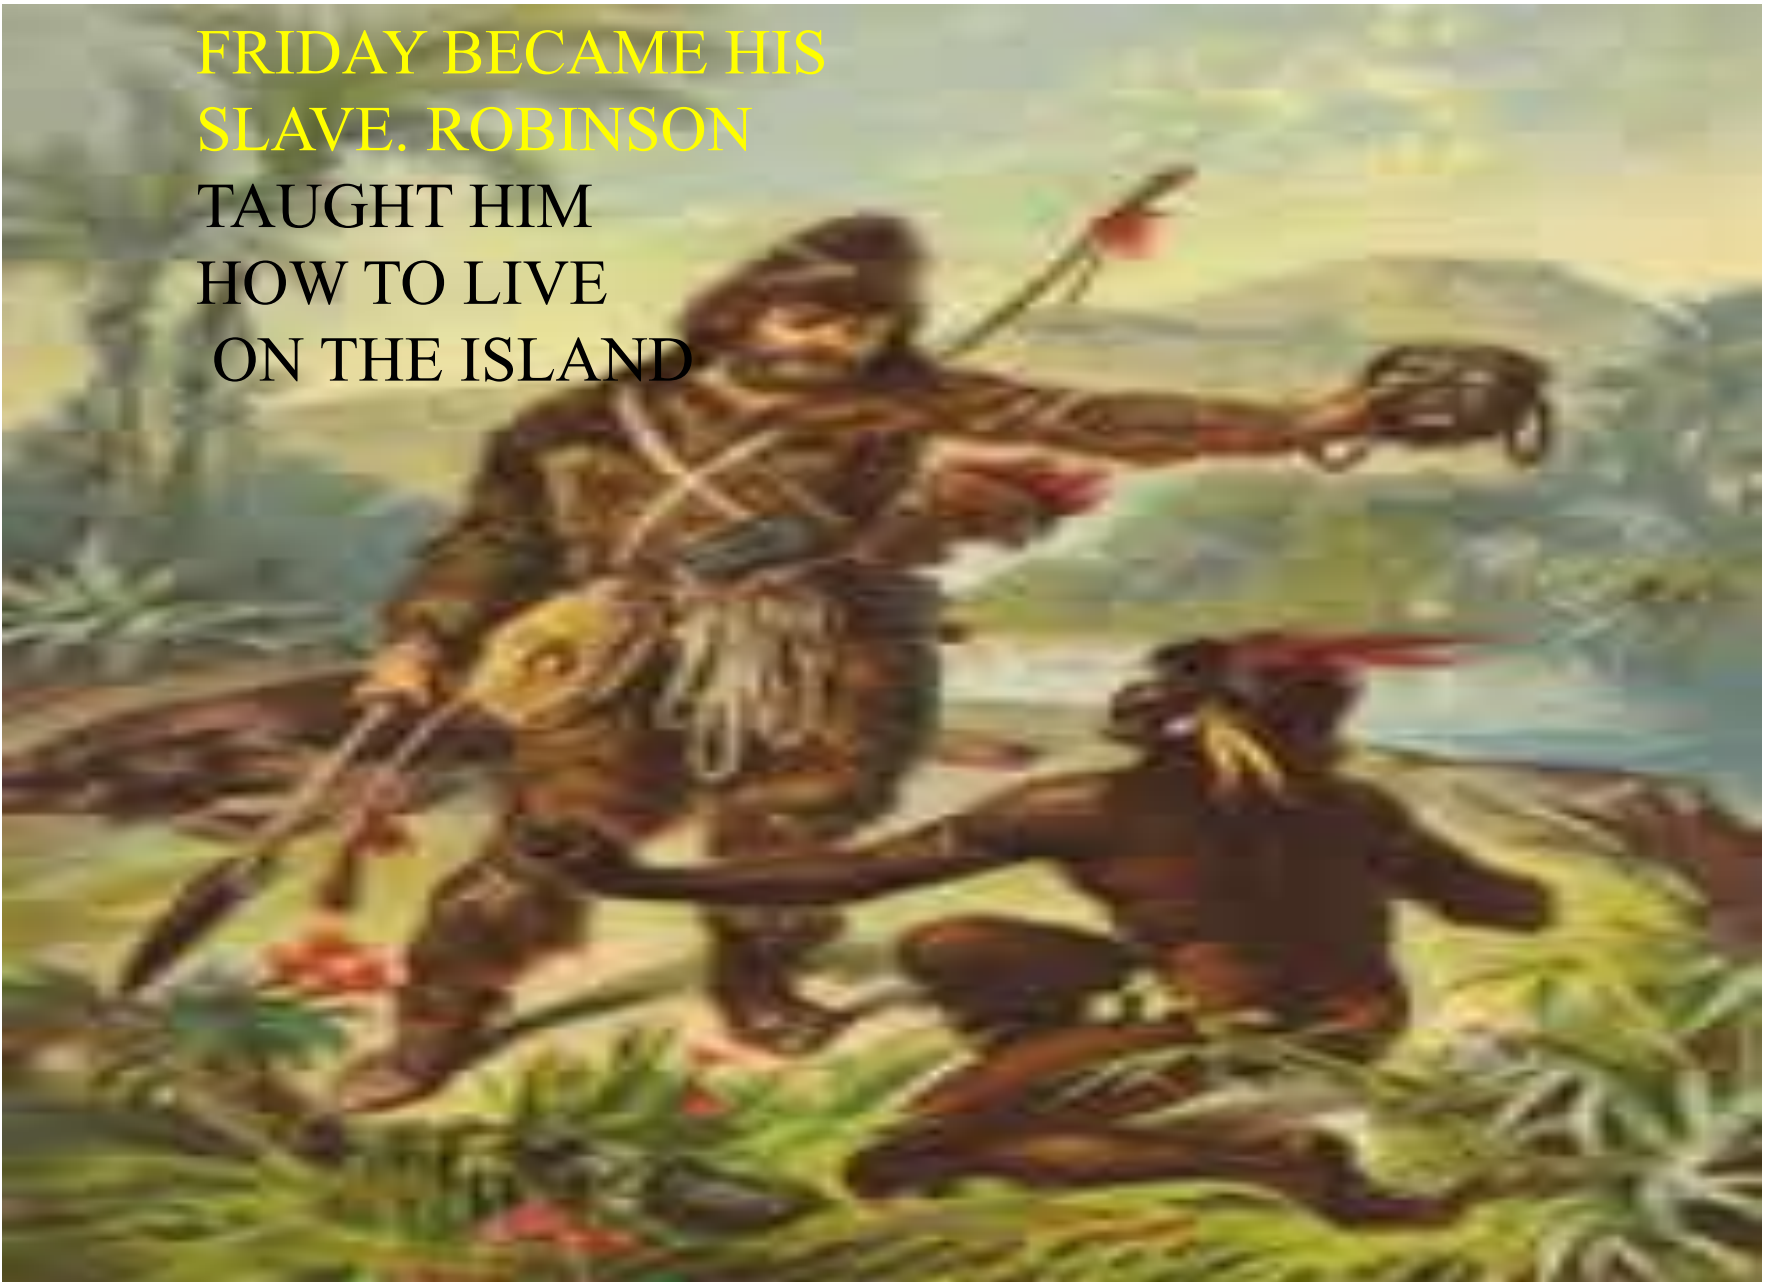

A painting depicting a scene from Robinson Crusoe. Robinson Crusoe, dressed in a brown tunic and a tall, pointed hat, stands in the center-right, holding a long rifle in his right hand and a small blue bird in his left. He is looking down at the bird. In the background, two cannibals are visible; one is crouching on the left, and another is lying on the ground in the foreground, seemingly dead. The setting is a lush tropical landscape with green foliage and trees. The text is overlaid in yellow capital letters.
