British Religious Holiday

Easter

Origin of the Holiday

Originally it was a Jewish holiday. The Jews prepared lamb for sacrifice and desalted (without salt) bread for eating

On the night of Jesus' seizure, Jesus and his disciples were celebrating Easter. It was the Lord's Supper. They drank wine and ate desalted bread. Before presenting in front of royal guards Jesus broke bread (host) and shared it among his disciples and drank wine (blood)

Friday before Easter is called Good Friday

“Good” had an old meaning, “holy”. Therefore, “Good Friday” means “Holy Friday”

Church performs a special service in memory of Jesus’ sacrifice

They bake

hot-cross buns

On Sunday when people went to Jesus' burial site it was empty.

They announced the Jesus' resurrection, saying "Christ has risen"

From now on, Easter as the day of Christ's resurrection is celebrated all over the world among Christians.

Facts about Easter

- Easter comes from the name of Eastr, Saxon Goddess of fruitfulness and richness.
- Easter means “spring”
- There is no exact date for Easter celebration. It takes place in the end of March or at the beginning of April

- The symbols of Easter in Europe, the USA and Canada are eggs (new life) and rabbit, or Easter Bunny (fruitfulness) or a hen.
- People boil and decorate eggs to show their love and respect to this day.
- Chocolate eggs are very popular among kids because not everybody likes eggs. Chocolate eggs attract them and help to support the tradition of Easter celebration.

- Egg hunt is one of the most popular activity for families and kids. The aim is to collect as more hidden eggs as possible

- Today, thanks to Royal family, Big Egg Hunting is possible for all tourists.
- There are 200 hundred egg monuments all over London. The one who finds more eggs wins $150 000
