A vibrant, hand-drawn illustration of a city skyline. The scene features a prominent clock tower on the right, with a blue roof and yellow clock faces. To its left are several other buildings with spires and domes, rendered in a sketchy, artistic style. The foreground shows a bridge with stone pillars and arches. The background is a mix of blue and yellow, suggesting a bright sky. The entire image has a textured, hand-drawn appearance with visible brushstrokes and a warm, colorful palette.
