A series of horizontal lines in teal and light blue colors, some solid and some dashed, extending across the width of the slide below the title.

What are countable nouns?

- Countable nouns are individual objects, people, places, etc. which can be counted. Nouns are considered content words meaning they provide the people, things, ideas, etc. about which we speak.

books, Italians, pictures, stations, men, etc.

A countable noun can be both singular - a friend, a house, etc.
or plural - a few apples, lots of trees, etc.

Use the singular form of the verb with a singular
countable noun:

There is a book on the table.

That student is excellent!

Use the plural form of the verb with a countable
noun in the plural:

There are some students in the classroom.

Those houses are very big, aren't they?

What are uncountable nouns?

- Uncountable nouns are materials, concepts, information, etc. which are not individual objects and can not be counted.

*information, water, understanding,
wood, cheese, etc.*

- Uncountable nouns are always singular.
Use the singular form of the verb with uncountable nouns:

There is some water in that pitcher.

That is the equipment we use for the project.

Adjectives with Countable and Uncountable Nouns.

- Use a/an with countable nouns preceded by an adjective(s):

Tom is a very intelligent young man.

I have a beautiful grey cat.

- Do not use a/an (indefinite articles) with uncountable nouns preceded by an adjective(s):

That is very useful information.

There is some cold beer in the fridge.

A list of some of the most common,
easy to confuse uncountable nouns.

- accommodation

advice

baggage

bread

equipment

furniture

garbage
