The team promotion

A group of people are seated around a long, dark conference table in a meeting room. In the foreground, several men are focused on documents or looking towards the center. Further back, a woman and two more men are visible, some looking towards the camera. The table is equipped with microphones, nameplates, and bottles of water. A large screen in the background displays a faint, abstract pattern. The text 'frequent conference' is overlaid in the lower right corner.
