

Spain is my favourite country.
I have never been there but
I've heard so much about it.

Spain is the second largest country in Europe. The area of it is 504,908 meters squared including the Canaries and the Balearics

SPAIN

Spain's landmarks are the remote Ordessa Valley which lying in the heart of the Pyreness Mountains in northeast Spain.

Another landmark is the strange towers in Barcelona's park of Spanish industry. This park occupies the site of an old textile mill.

Other popular sports are football, cycling, swimming and basketball. Other famous hobbies are flamenco dancing and Jai Alai which is a type of fall game

Until the 1950's Spain was one of the poorest European country, but since then it's economy has improved rapidly. The country is famous for its beautiful beaches along the Mediterranean coast.
