

Stereotypes of older people

Made by Mishkina Marina,
Mishkina Aleksandra

9-th form «A»

Teacher: Rozhina Tatiana
Mihailovna

Stereotypes

A photograph of an older man with white hair and a beard, wearing a light blue button-down shirt. He is sitting in a brown leather armchair, smiling broadly and giving a thumbs-up with his right hand. The background is a bright, out-of-focus interior with a wicker lampshade on the left, a round clock on a surface behind him, and a window with light coming through on the right.

- Nowadays older people are resented in mass media as helpless and weak. They say older people have no interests and ambitions. That when they are retired they do nothing, watching TV, sitting on the bench and discussing youth.

My opinion

- In my opinion, the live of elderly people is opposite when they are retired, they became more activity, because their have more time for it. This generation is called the golden age. Because they try to help their adults children and grandchildren with their money, advise and experience. They travel and do sport, they cook

Example

- Two days ago I met my neighbor from the village. I was so surprised by her story. Her life is fantastic. Every day she enjoys Scandinavian walking for six kilometers. She does morning exercises and dances regularly. She does gardening in her daughter's house. She feels herself better than when she was younger. Now

A close-up portrait of Queen Elizabeth II. She is wearing a blue and white speckled hat with a dark blue flower on the side. She has short, curly white hair and is smiling slightly. She is wearing a pearl earring and a multi-strand pearl necklace. The word "Conclusion" is written in white serif font across the top of the image.

Conclusion

- In conclusion I can say, that stereotypes are harmful for everybody and it is bad.