Санквылтап

An abstract painting featuring a variety of musical instruments. A large, vibrant red violin is the central focus, with its body and f-hole rendered in bold, expressive brushstrokes. To its left, a guitar is depicted with warm, orange and yellow tones. The background is a complex, layered composition of swirling colors, including deep blues, greens, and purples, creating a sense of movement and energy. The overall style is expressive and modern, with a focus on color and form over realistic detail.
